CLAIMED BY DEATH TUESDAY MORNING

HARRISON FEAGAN

The most remarkable life of Harrison Feagan, a prominent Jones County farmer, came to an end at 2:45 Tuesday morning, January 23, at his home six miles south of Hamlin.

Mr. Feagan was 62 years, 6 months and 7 days of age. He was born in Lamar County, Texas, July 16, 1877 and had lived in Jones County since December, 1890. He was married to Esther Owens, a young woman of the Neinda community, and the companion and one daughter, Mrs. B. H. Dillard, survive. Also two grand-children, Jack and Betty Jean Dillard. This family had made the same community, Neinda, their home for fifty years.

The deceased is also survived by his mother, Mrs. J. H. Feagan of Hamlin; two brothers, Jim Feagan of San Angelo, and Elmer C. Feagan of Hamlin, and three sisters, Mrs. W. B. Fletcher, of San Angelo, Mrs. Clinton Funk of Rotan and Mrs. Otto Williams of Dalhart. One sister, Mrs. T. P. Milsap, passed away several years ago.

For many reasons, Harrison Feagan was outstanding in this part of Texas as a farmer and citizen. First he was a man of unconquerable energy, undergoing health handicaps that would have made most men give up twenty-five years before his life ended. Many years ago he was afflicted with some form of skin trouble, rendering perspiration impossible, but outside of that he was vigorous and carried on extensive farming interests, doing more work than younger men of perfect physique. In recent years Mr. Feagan suffered from a malignant disease, and still he continued to display unusual stamina, and it is reported he was in Hamlin as late as last Saturday.

Harrison Feagan was a Christian gentleman, outspoken and emphatic in his stand for all things for the betterment of his country from home to the nation-wide.

For many years Mr. Feagan was President of the Farmers Co-operative Gin Society of Neinda, one of the oldest gins of the county. He was ever alert in doing the things that would help his neighbors and friends along the paths of life. Mr. Feagan was an optimist, he was always looking for something that he could joke and laugh about, and if he ever groused it was because of something he thought should be improved or done away with.

Mr. Feagan was a devoted member of the Methodist Church of Hamlin.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, by the pastor, Rev. John W. Hendrix. The presence of the host of old friends, and neighbors, and the display of so many flowers that speak a language from sympathetic hearts, all bore testimony of the esteem and love held for the deceased.

Burial was in the East Cemetery, of Hamlin, under the direction of the Barrow Company.

METHODIST CHURCH

John W. Hendrix, Pastor

Although it was rather cold last Sunday we record a good day in the church. Of course, the little ones and some of the aged could not attend. We seek to make each Sabbath a red letter day in the church. We struggle to be as comfortable as possible, and for the most part it is.

The Church steps forward with this program for next Sunday:

Church School at 9:45 A. M. And to this all, of all ages, are cordially invited.

MORNING WORSHIP will present a choice program of music, hymns. The choir is organized and ready to share in a fine way in each service. The pastor will deliver a sermon, using as subject, "The Lamp Lighters." This has every promise of proving most profitable for all. Who are the lamp lighters of the centuries? Who will light the lamps, light the way to future success? Let's study this together—10:50 A. M.

EVENING SERVICE comes on at 7:15 P. M. Yes, we offer an exceptional treat in this service. The Volunteer Crusaders of McMurry College. They will be guests of the young people at a Candle Light service opening at 6 o'clock, at which time they will lunch together and end with a worship period. This same group will have charge of the evening worship hour.

It is but fair to expect an excellent program out of these Youth Crusaders. They have been going from one church to another over this area giving programs, holding religious services. It is indeed an opportunity to have them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Oliver Jones visited in Weatherford, Sunday. They were accompanied as far as Breckenridge by Miss Pauline Harrell, who visited her grandmother.

Weather Causes Fire Alarm, Small Damage

One night last week fire was discovered in Mrs. Sue Hill's home and the fire department responded and quickly put out the blaze. Small damage was reported.

This Thursday, the Wienke Beauty Salon had a bad scare when gas escaping from a pipe outside to the rear of the building, near a frozen water pipe caught fire. They were warming the water pipe with burning papers, when the unsuspecting gas caught with a boom and flashed twenty feet high. The fire boys were quickly on the ground and no damage was done. The leaking pipe was replaced immediately.

MISS WIENKE'S BROTHER'S HOME BURNED AT OLD GLORY

Information came by a party from Aspermont late Wednesday that Leslie Wienke's new home at Old Glory had burned. Full confirmation was not learned till Miss Wienke phoned to her parents' home early Thursday, after hearing some rumor of the fire. Her information was that her brother and wife had been away from the place but a short time. All their household goods, which were new, were lost except a few pieces of furniture.

McMurry Crusaders

Are to be guests of the local Young People of the Methodist Church Sunday evening at a luncheon at 6 P. M. Then at the hour of evening worship they are to be in charge. It is expected, have every right to expect, a service at both occasions of great value. Now, what do these have to say about things? This question becomes more and more interesting. Hear them at these services.

DON'T BORROW — Take the HERALD.

Knox City Pastor To Preach Sunday

The pulpit at the Baptist Church will be occupied by Hamlin's neighboring pastor, Rev. East of Knox City. He will preach at the morning and evening hours, and the pulpit committee desires as many as possible to hear this visiting pastor.

Last Sunday the Baptist Church was served by the Rev. W. T. Hamor, of Winters. He had a cordial reception and preached two excellent sermons. He is no stranger to most of the membership, as he was pastor for several years at Anson, and in his early days was pastor at McCaulley.

The Baptist Sunday School last Sunday had a few less than 200 present, and the Sunday School offering amounted to more than $70.

Mrs. Roy Knight, of Breckenridge, spent the week end here with her daughters, Mrs. McIntyre and family and Miss Peggy Knight.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lee had as their guests Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Branscum, of Sweetwater, Mr. and Mrs. Ulyess Branscum, Mrs. S. E. Branscum and son, R. Branscum and granddaughter, Floy Marie Branscum, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Branscum and sons Richard and Edward.

Miss Marie Branscum spent last week with her sister, Mrs. L. B. Meeks, who has been sick for the past two months, but is reported to be improving.

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT

AND A LITTLE BIT OF

THAT

This "Finnish" weather!

If it is any colder in Finland than it is down here about Hamlin, no wonder the Russians can't stand it.

In this southland of Dixie, when it gets cold enough to crack window panes, it is cold enough to freeze the tail off of a pig.

—T&T—

Down at Houston a car wreck happened. They called an ambulance, it was frozen—another was called—it was frozen. The third went. The police car No. 100 went and when they tried to get their picture-taking outfit out of the back of the car, the door was frozen—when the wrecker came the hoist chain was frozen . . . everything was "frez up."

—T&T—

Believe it or not . . . down in Sadler, Texas, their water works burned. Think of that!

—T&T—

Sulfapyridine is proving man's greatest boon in a dozen kinds of sickness. In Baltimore 19 straight cases of pneumonia and not a single one lost. In Hamlin a certain prominent woman says that they are trying Sulfapyridine to cure the itch.

—T&T—

It is strange how a public man will be "cussed" while he is alive and active, and then how he will be praised when he dies. Is it the spirit of forgiveness or is it a manner of celebration?

—T&T—

What will people say about you when the "quitting bell rings?"

—T&T—

Tall stories are rife these days about cold weather. One farmer up in Colorado said that when he went out to milk his cows, the milk froze before it hit the bucket, and he just bundled it up in sticks and carried it into the house. And the reason he could not bring the milk into town was because he could not make his auto go without antifreeze, as he had let the cows drink all the antifreeze he had to keep the milk flowing. Now bud, what can you tell?

—T&T—

The Poll Tax! Have you paid yours? Better, you might want to vote against somebody. See!

—T&T—

This favorable trade balance has kept up till many foreign countries are less and less able to buy what this country has to sell. The misery of the world today is because the peoples of some nations try to live under the naked dollar, instead of blankets, bread and beans. This

United States is becoming so overburdened with dollars till millions are starving and freezing to death.

—T&T—

There is a law that provides for the discharge of a federal employee if the employee takes an active part in politics . . . in other words a person must keep his mouth shut if he is a servant of the people . . . that does not sound right.

—T&T—

If quadruplets are delivered only about once out of each one million births, the population of the United States is growing mighty fast.

—T&T—

It must have been cold this week . . . Roy McCurdy buttoned his vest . . . when he does that it is cold.

—T&T—

The United States in 1939, had a favorable trade balance of over eleven hundred and thirteen million dollars and that was the lowest it had been since 1931. Is it any puzzle then why the money of the world is piling up over here in America?

Dear Mr. Pope:

I noticed that my subscription to the Herald will be out this month, so enclosed find a check for one dollar for the Herald.

We are having snow and ice here for the last four days, the first in the last 14 years.

I see where John Turner is out for road commissioner. Tell him I said hello, and hope he would stay on his old job. Say, don't you boys let him down for he has built our roads that will be there when he has been gone. Best wishes to all

Dear Mr. Pope:

Enclosed find one dollar. Please renew my subscription to the Herald.

I sure enjoy reading the good old Hamlin Herald. I certainly appreciate it very much.

My best regards; hoping all enjoying good health.

P. S.—We have a big snow on the ground and is still snowing.

Miss Mary Nixon, who has been taking training while employed by the NYO Administration during the past twelve months in the office of City Secretary J. B. Eakin, has been placed as office assistant to Mr. Eakin, effective as of Monday, Jan. 22. This is an example where the NYA has rendered a service to a young lady. A number of young men are doing public work for the City and Miss Nixon is one of the few young women of the county to be assisted by the NYA Administration. The Area Supervisor is Mr. W. Baxter with offices in Anson.

Charlie Stifflemire

Former Banker At Lueders For Treas.

Wednesday morning the Herald was visited by Charlie Stifflemire, of Lueders, who came to tell this paper to announce for him that he would like to be Treasurer of Jones County.

Charlie says that he has been in Jones County so long, nearly 32 years, that everybody knows everything about him and so if he tries to tell it on himself it might not be so good as to let a newspaper just "hop at it" and tell on him all we please.

Well, Charlie is a very likeable kind of fellow. He is trained in financing, having been for 16 years a banker, filling every position from janitor to Cashier at Lueders. Mr. Stifflemire says that he has tried to carry every department of citizenship in his community these years and now would appreciate a county-wide job at the hands of the voters. Mr. Stifflemire will return to this end of the County many times during the coming months and try to meet as many citizens as possible. And as he is next on the list we shall set his name in the proper column for County Treasurer.

Roy Cameron for Fisher County Commissioner

The Herald is circulating into the home of many Fisher County voters in Commissioner's Precinct No. 2, and therefore the names of candidates in the Herald list will appeal to them also.

This week we add the name of Roy Cameron, who resides in the Plasterco community, who asks to be elected Commissioner of his Precinct, No. 2. Roy needs no special introduction to his part of the county for he has lived in the Precinct for twenty years. Roy says this is the first time in his life he ever asked for any kind of office.

He requests this announcement to say for him that he fully realizes the importance of the Commissioner's office and that if chosen for this place he will strive to do the job just like he would one of his own, in the most economical manner possible.

Former Mayor Of Anson for Treasurer

To The Voters of Jones County:

In asking the citizens of Jones County to elect me to the office of County Treasurer, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July, I do so feeling that I am well qualified to perform the duties of this highly important office.

As a qualification I cite the following: I have had more than 25 years' business experience in dealing with the public; 20 years of this time spent in a clerical and office capacity in the services of both the Abilene & Southern and T. & P. Railway Companies. This was work requiring the most tedious practical accounting and book keeping work and the handling of large sums of money.

To me, your Treasurer is one of the most important offices in the cogs of County government, this office handles the registration of all vouchers and checks drawn against the various funds of the County; this office is the financial department of the County government, therefore it is very important toward success in this office, that the affairs be conducted upon a strict business basis.

I have lived in Anson for the past 12 years, and as evidence of the confidence my neighbors have in me, I was elected twice to the office of Mayor of Anson. By appointment from the Commissioners' Court I am serving as Justice of the Peace.

It will be my intention to see each of you before the Primary, but this is to say, I will certainly appreciate your vote and influence and ask that you investigate my character and ability and if you see fit to elect me your Treasurer, you may be assured I will handle the affairs of this office to the best of my ability.

Sincerely,
J. R. (Rex) REDDELL

Headache, Bad Breath Tell of More to Come

Just as Paul Revere's famous ride warned of the Redcoats' coming, so Nature's messengers — headaches, biliousness, bad breath — often warn of faulty elimination.

Neglecting these signs may cause a host of constipation's discomforts: sour stomach, belching; no appetite or energy; mental dullness.

It's so easy to wake up your lazy insides. Just take spicy, all vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT. Its unusual help comes from its principal ingredient — an intestinal tonic-laxative which imparts tone to lazy bowel muscles.

Millions of packages used testify to BLACK-DRAUGHT's merit. Try it.

Sample Census Report

The Herald has received a sample census report blank for the FARM and RANCH SCHEDULE. It requires the most complete information the United States has ever asked for in a census. Farmers, both tenant and land owners had better be thinking about this report. All questions asked therein MUST be answered to the best of your knowledge and ability. When the enumerator comes around you will see that there is not a single item about you, your family, your home, your acres, that can be asked, but that it is on the blank form to be told. Every blank MUST be filled out (and they don't mean maybe).

It would appear that all this information is to be given along about April, 1940. A thousand questions will be asked about which you never heard of before. Some of them may or may not apply to you and yours, but they will be asked anyway.

Fisher County Women Continue Good Work

By Mamie Carol Smith, Assistant County Home Demonstration Agent Fisher County

Wanda Pittman of the Moody 4-H Club worked with poultry, clothing and canning in 4-H Club work this year. She purchased forty baby chicks and fed them a balanced ration. The chicken house was kept clean and the watering and feeding devices were clean at all times. Green feed was provided for the chickens. After they were larger, the roosters were culled out and sold. Wanda kept the pullets to supply eggs for this winter.

In clothing, she made a dress, a slip, halter, cup towel, pot lifter, and two hat stands. "It was hard to make small even stitches in putting the hem in my dress at first, but with a little practice, I did quite well," explained Wanda. Then, Wanda helped her mother can ten containers of algerita berry jelly, ten containers of plum jelly, and twenty quarts of tomatoes. Wanda is proud of the fact that she learned to dress fryers and also cooks and sews better than she did last year.

Juanita Reynolds of the McCauley 4-H Club is an all around club member. She repaired an old clothes closet by: repapering the inside with light colored paper, adding shelves at one end of the closet for folded garments, adding a rod to hang clothes on made out of a broom handle, and making a shoe rack and a hat stand. The door of the closet was painted. Juanita made two cup towels, two aprons, a head scarf, a sewing box, slip, hose bag, and a pair of pillow cases.

She raised twenty-five chickens, feeding and caring for them by herself. She fed them a balanced ration with plenty of green feed and water.

Juanita made two frame gardens, raising radishes, tomatoes, lettuce, mustard, and spinach in them. Juanita has been a 4-H Club member for four years and plans to do more and better 4-H Club work in 1940.

"I raised thirty of my forty baby chickens," stated Marie Havine, poultry demonstrator of the Dowell 4-H Club. Marie kept a record of the expenses of her chickens. When she sold them, she made a profit of $3.50 on twenty chickens. She repaired her chicken house, repaired two old and made two new roosts, made 20 hens nests so (that there would be one hens nest for every five hens in the family flock), made two feeders and two waterers. She fed her chickens adequate rations, provided green feed, and kept the chicken house and yard clean at all times.

In addition to her poultry work, Marie has made the following clothing work: 2 dresses, 1 luncheon cloth, 1 slip, 1 house coat, 1 pair of pajamas, 1 sewing box, 3 pot holders, 2 aprons, 5 pairs of pillow cases, and 1 head scarf.

Reena Newhouse of the Sylvester 4-H Club accomplished many goals in 4-H Club work during 1939. One of her main accomplishments was the building of a frame garden five feet by twenty feet. She bought the lumber to make the frame. The garden was sub-irrigated by the use of oil cans from which the ends had been removed. The cover for the top was made of unbleached muslin. The cost of her frame garden, including seed for the first planting was $2.50. The frame garden was replanted a number of times during the year. English peas, radishes, onions, lettuce, mustard, and spinach were harvested from the garden.

"I have truly enjoyed my 4-H Club work this year," said Reena. "I did a lot of sewing and made 3 pairs of pillow cases, two dresses, 6 pot holders, three slips, one vanity set, two aprons, seven cup towels, and one play suit," she continued.

"We remodeled our clothes closet," said Ora Mae and Nora Faye Bond, clothing demonstrators of the Plasterco 4-H Club. The closet has a rod in it to hang clothes on. The walls of the closet were unpainted and slightly soiled, so the inside of the closet was painted ivory. By being painted a light color, it was easier to find clothes in the closet and helps to keep out the moths. Three shelves were placed in one end of the closet to keep folded garments on. One shoe rack and two hat stands were made and placed in the closet.

Ora Mae made a dress, pajamas one pair pillow cases, dresser scarf head scarf, two pot lifters, two cup towels, and a slip. She plans to accomplish more in 4-H Club work in 1940.

When Jean Andes and her folks moved to the Swedonia community in the fall of 1938, they bought 20 laying hens. Jean Andes became poultry demonstrator of the Swedonia club for 1939. There were 2 large chicken houses, and Jean helped her father repair and improve the buildings. The buildings were moved to a more convenient location. A yarding system was built in front of the brooder house. Jean made drinking fountains and feeders for the chickens. After the above preparations were made, Jean purchased 190 baby chickens. "I followed the suggestions in the bulletin 'Growing Baby Chicks,' in taking care of my chickens," said Jean. Mash was mixed from feed that was on hand. The chickens were fed a balanced ration together with a green feed and plenty of fresh water. The chicken houses were kept clean all of the time by Jean.

"I have fifty pullets for next year from my chickens," explained Jean. "We have sold or eaten all of the other chickens at a profit." Late in the summer, one hundred and eighty more chickens were purchased, and are being raised successfully.

BENEFIT PARTY FOR UNDERNOURISHED

Under the leadership of Mrs. Frank Waggoner, a general community party and cake auction was held in the Chandler Building, next door to the City Hall, Thursday night.

This effort on the part of Mrs. Waggoner and her many assistants, is a very worthy one. Some people may not understand that there are children in this Hamlin community, as well as in other communities over this part of Texas, that come to school without food for the mid-day lunch. And some of these children have come from homes where there was but scanty breakfast. Many children bring their lunch to school—and think of how those who have nothing to eat feel at the time others are happy with wholesome nourishing lunches. This situation is more acute these days than ever before, owing to the fact that the parents of many children have not substantial means of gathering proper food for their children.

Some people indicate that this is just another way to spoil certain people. That may be true, but maybe many a child has thought of doing something wrong when he or she is hungry and no fault of his.

A quarter for a little hot, clean food is a quarter well spent.

A full report of the Thurs. night 'Games Party' will be made next week.

How Do You Rank?

Careful drivers seldom skid.

Use caution as a practice and you won't have to use bad weather as an excuse.

Pedestrians should be seen and not hurt.

You won't live to be 80 if you try to reach it on the speedometer.

Drive with your head—not with your horn.

Control yourself—and you'll control your car.

Does your driving set a good example?

Courtesy prevents crashes.

Alert today—alive tomorrow.

Stick to your safety resolutions and you won't get stuck with an accident.

Memorizing safety rules is not enough—you have to practice them.

Absent-minded professors may be funny—but not absent-minded drivers.

In Memory of 'Damit'

'Damit', Just a Dog

Abilene, Tex., Jan. 22—Memory of "Damit," the college mascot, a faithful bulldog whose name was Fritz on Sunday, will be memorialized here Friday and Saturday at student recognition services at Hardin-Simmons University.

Saturday is the twentieth anniversary of the death of the universal favorite on the H-S U campus, from 1916 to 1920. In those years, "Damit" attended classes as faithfully as most students. And more regularly than some.

"Damit" died on Jan. 20, 1920. He was buried on the campus, as the celebrated H-S U Cowboy Band played an appropriate funeral march. Four seniors were pallbearers.

Ira Harrison, senior student, delivered the funeral oration, "Every Dog Has His Day." With quotations from Senator George G. Vest's famed eulogy on man's "best friend."

Friday, at the university chapel convocation, Rev. Mr. Harrison, now pastor of the First Baptist church at Snyder, will deliver a memorial tribute.

Later, at the campus grave site, as the Cowboy Band plays, Jack Dean, El Paso senior and H-S U student president, will place a memorial marker, to be set in concrete.

The marker is a reproduction of the "Dam-It, He Is Dead" cartoon that Robert "Believe It or Not" Ripley used in his daily series of cartoon sketches, Oct. 16, 1937.

The 1920 senior class counted Damit as one of its members. The class of 1927 placed a stone to mark his grave.

"Damit was only a dog, but he had many good traits we students could pattern after," said Jack Dean, student president, today. "In the first place, he was self-made."

"In 1916, from darky town, he made his way to the home of 'Prexy' Sandefer. There, he soon became pals of Jake and Gib, President Sandefer's sons. He became a member of the freshman class, the class of 1920, and the college mascot."

For four years Damit was a faithful "student." He attended many classes with J. D. Sandefer, Jr., member of the class of '20, now a Breckenridge oil man, and state park board member.

"He never deliberately cut a class," recalled Dr. J. D. Sandefer, veteran H-S U president, from his hospital sickbed.

"Sometimes, because of running errands for upper classmen, he would be late to class, but he would bark at the door until admitted by the teacher or a student."

"Damit never cut chapel. He was always on hand, to sleep peacefully and respectfully before a radiator, often as fellow students were receiving weighty counsel, admonition, or perhaps a rebuke," said Dr. Sandefer, H-S U president since 1909.

"Under all circumstances he was in good humor. He took both cuffs, and pranks of students in fine spirit—overcoming any bulldog traits in his disposition."

"He had a habit of carrying a rock in his mouth, that would fall out on the floor with a bang when a class ceased to be interesting and he would fall asleep; that was a beneficial and none too subtle a reminder to both teacher and students," reminisced Dr. Sandefer.

Health Demands Correct Heating

Heating habits are as important in safeguarding the family's health throughout the winter as eating habits, the gas company warns its customers.

"Winter presents a threat to the whole family's health, using the common cold as an advance guard to open the door for pneumonia, influenza and other serious respiratory ailments," the company points out. "Doctors generally urge plenty of rest, sensible eating habits, evenly heated rooms and avoidance of draughts as allies in warding off colds."

An overheated room can present as serious a health hazard as an unheated one, according to the gas company, which urges its customers to heat their entire homes only to a comfortable, even temperature.

"Children in school enjoy the even temperature provided by automatically controlled heating equipment. They are more susceptible to colds if they spend their time out of school in a home where the whole family congregates in one overheated room, running out into unheated rooms or halls. Instead of shutting the family up in one or two rooms heated to

Triplett's Didactical Data About Plants

Newest chemurgic discovery uses extracts from a weed plant very common in this area, the Milkweed. From this weed Asclepain, a proteolytic enzyme, is obtained. This extract breaks down the protein in foods into more digestible substances and is being used as a steak tenderizer. Of course, in this part of the country, no steak tenderizer is needed since we produce the world's finest and most tender steak. (This is not intended as Chamber of Commerce propaganda). Discoverer of the process is Dr. Alva R. Davis of the University of California.

Even the lowly cocklebur is being utilized. The other night we saw a clever centerpiece made from cockleburs, cotton and silver plant. A lady in a town to the southeast is reported doing well in the manufacture of these novelties. They are even being used as banquet favors, and in the north have been sold for $1 each as porcupine eggs.

In addition to the new uses for these two plants another common pest, the Devil's Claw, is being used in the manufacture of novelties; they can be made into very attractive birds. Next problem: how to use the grassburs and goatheads.

And another new process which should interest the farmers, a chemist has discovered that cotton can be converted into material without the necessity of weaving. Chemical process that takes the place of the weaving and produces the material at much less cost than in the old manner. It is expected that eventually this will stop the importation of jute, brought into this country duty free in competition with our cotton.

For the ladies—the new nose, a chemical triumph, which will go on sale throughout the country within the next few months. Soft, sheers, many times stronger than that of silk hose. Washing improves their looks. With the rise in price of silk from plus $2 to plus $4 and its recent decrease in quality within the past few months, this is likewise good news. Reasons for the advance in price of silk is due in part to the campaign being waged by the Japanese in their effort to civilize the Chinese. This process of bringing civilization to the Chinese is also responsible for the decrease in the quality of silk, since the experienced silk workers in Japan have been transferred to the higher paid work at munitions factories and inexperienced workers have taken their place.—G. D. Triplett, Sec'y. Anson Chamber of Commerce.

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have already done.—Longfellow.

"I guess my father must have been a pretty mischievous boy," said one youngster.

"Why," inquired another. "Because he knows exactly what questions to ask when he wants to know what I have been doing."

Drive carefully! You may meet a fool.

Miss Leonie Daniel Becomes Bride of Kurt Schoemann

The marriage of Miss Leonie Daniel, of New York City, and Mr. Kurt Schoemann, of Hamlin, took place at 4:00 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, in the Hebrew College in Ft. Worth, with Rabbi Graubart officiating. The wedding culminated a romance which began several years ago when the couple was living in Europe.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Daniel, of Holland, from which country she came to New York two years ago to make her home with her sister.

Mr. Schoemann is the son of Mrs. Frieda Schoemann, of Hamlin. He had lived in Germany until nearly four years ago when he came to Dallas, and after living there for a few months, he came to Hamlin as manager of the Strauss Dry Goods Company. During his short residence here, Mr. Schoemann has become one of the progressive young business men of the town. He is a member of the Lions Club and a member of the Chamber of Commerce. After establishing his home here his mother, Mrs. Frieda Schoemann, came from their former home in Germany, two years ago, to join him.

For the wedding, the bride chose a new spring suit of dawn gray sheer wool with harmonizing accessories. She wore a corsage of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner at the Texas Hotel was attended by the groom's mother, Mrs. Frieda Schoemann, his cousin, Mr. Walter Bernstein, of Dallas, and Mrs. Clyde Huff of Hamlin, who also witnessed the ceremony.

After a trip to Austin, San Antonio, Houston, Galveston and other south Texas points, Mr. and Mrs. Schoemann will make their home in Hamlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Herbst and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Flenniken and son Glenn enjoyed 42 games at Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brown's of Hamlin Tuesday night.

CELEBRATION

Fifty years ago Thursday, Jan. 18, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Herbst and four small children arrived on a 160 acre farm in what is known now as the Wise Chapel community. On Wednesday and Thursday Mrs. Herbst was the central figure in a celebration; that is if any kind of function in a hospital may be termed a celebration. Four of her five children visited her at Hendrick Memorial hospital in observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the family's arrival on the Jones county farm where Mrs. Herbst continues to live.

Mrs. Herbst has been a patient in the hospital since December 14. It was then that she fell at her home and broke a leg and hip. She is still in a cast but her physicians have promised she'll be able to return home by ground hog day. She wanted to be there, Thursday the 25th, but her doctor and children ruled otherwise. Mrs. Herbst began her 80th year last Sept. 25th. Her husband has been dead nine years but she has continued to maintain her home since. Two sons live only a few hundred yards from the home place.

Sons and daughters visiting Mrs. Herbst these two days are: Mrs. Emma Dixon of Lamesa, Mrs. Kate Jennings of Hobbs, New Mexico, son-in-law R. N. Adams and his three sons and daughter, Avery, Richard, Gales Adams, and Mr. and Mrs. McClung of Tulsa, Texas; Dave and Rufus Herbst of this community. The oldest son, Louis, of Idalou, was unable to visit his mother because of the extreme cold weather.

From her hospital bed Mrs. Herbst told of the family arrival in this section of the county. The trip was made by train, Abilene being the unloading point. First night was spent in an old wagon yard, the second camped out on Catclaw or some other creek now in the city limits. Household goods consisted of five head of livestock and a wagon, the major part of the first carload that was brought from Hill county, the family's former home.

Mr. Herbst bought another wagon immediately after reaching Abilene and set forth to establish a home on the quarter section of land he had bought for $4.50 an acre on a former trip to this section. The family lived in a smokehouse on their new farm until material could be hauled in for building a two-room house. The family went back to Hill county the following summer and drove back 35 head cattle that had been left behind. Like many other pioneer women Mrs. Herbst experienced many hardships in rearing her family and helping her husband establish a home on virgin land of West Texas. There was no Hamlin then, nor was there a Stamford. Anson was only a trading post and Abilene not much larger, Mrs. Herbst said.

CARD of THANKS

We desire to express our grateful appreciation and thanks for the true kindness and sympathy shown us in the sad hours when death took from us our dear son and brother, Tillman. Our hearts have been endeared to the good people of McCaulley and Hamlin for their expressions in so many ways. Your acts, words and beautiful floral offerings all meant so much to us in the sad hours. To each and every one we most sincerely thank you.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Johnson and Children

Interconnected Gas System Prevents Shortage As Line Breaks During Cold

Gas dispatchers in headquarters of Lone Star Gas System, Dallas, at work on one of the coldest days of the year. With heavy snow falling and the greatest demand for gas in 30 years, men were at their posts constantly. They are connected with far flung gas fields and compressor stations giving orders to step up pressures and cut in more wells. One man is receiving weather reports over short wave radio. They are alert for any emergency. Left to right: Tom B. Long, chief dispatcher; Luther Tolbert, assistant pipe line superintendent standing back of M. S. Ball, receiving weather reports; H. D. Hewitt, studying pipe line map.

In the midst of the coldest recent day, facing the greatest demand for gas service in 30 years, Lone Star Gas Company's pipe line from the Panhandle to Petrolia ripped wide open, company officials stated. The break shut off the world's greatest gas field in the midst of an all time peak demand, yet there was no shortage of gas, officials said, because the pipe lines serving the local gas company are part of a thoroughly interconnected system.

"Never in the company's history was the temperature so uniformly low simultaneously throughout our entire system," said Elmer F. Schmidt, Dallas, operating manager of Lone Star Gas. "The gas requirements of the 300,000 homes we serve in Texas and Oklahoma jumped to a new all time peak, 25 per cent greater than for any other single day in the company's history. But despite the break not a man, woman or child suffered because of any failure in supply.

"The one thing standing between thousands of people and death or suffering was Lone Star's interconnected, integrated, thoroughly organized pipe line system. No one-way pipe line could have met this test. If our customers had been relying on a single line from a single producing area, homes would have been without gas because of this break. But our 4,700 miles of pipe lines, interconnecting more than "An soon as warning was given of the break, two repair crews set out to locate it, one traveling south from Shamrock, Texas, the other north from Vernon. Though each crew had to travel more than 50 miles, much of the distance over frozen ground along the pipe line, they located the break in less than two hours, had it repaired in two more, and gas once more flowed through the line.

"Meanwhile the dispatcher re-routed gas from other fields to maintain uninterrupted service. When the break occurred, he ordered gate valves opened on the south end of the system near Groesbeck and Elm Mott, permitting gas from East Texas fields, which had previously been flowing south from Waco, to move northward through lines running from Mexia to Waco to Cleburne. At the same time gate valves were opened to permit gas from the West Texas fields, which also had been flowing south, to go eastward to Dallas and points northeast. By this means gas already in the Panhandle line was held in the line for use of the towns between the break and Fort Worth. The flow of gas over almost the entire system was reversed to meet the emergency.

"Brunt of our battle against the cold always falls on the gas dispatchers and the field men. As the northern approaches, the dispatchers rush orders by private telephone to turn in more wells, increase pressure and compressor engines and keeping guard over regulators at city limits and other mechanical devices to see that they did not freeze up. At remote spots on the system men kept night-long vigils at measuring stations, watching pressures to give the dispatcher on duty instant warning if trouble occurred.

"The courage, loyalty and skill of these men stands back of our uninterrupted service to 300,000 homes during the recent cold weather. Years of planning and foresight and a huge investment in machinery and equipment have gone into building our facilities to meet the unprecedented demand we have just come through, a demand 600 to 700 times greater than on a summer day. Much of this great investment in equipment lies idle part of the time, waiting for the few days in the winter when it must be ready to function instantly.

"There are few systems in the United States that are designed to assure dependable and continuous service to their customers like Lone

How To Keep Warm, How To Keep Cool

Two of the greatest problems that humanity has ever had to deal with are those of Heat and Cold.

In winter time, a well ventilated, and properly heated house (every room) is essential to health. Heated all the time, to prevent that chilling sensation. But someone will say it costs too much! Yes, and a series of bad colds, and maybe a spell of pneumonia is costly and maybe fatal. The human cold is medicine's greatest puzzle. So many things can cause a cold and hardly anything will cure a cold. Experience of everybody says that colds "run their course." The best time to stop a cold is before it ever starts. Even with all the well heated homes, and places of work, the hardest people might take a cold.

Noted again in last week's Herald that the gas company stressed the importance of keeping the entire house warm. Some Hamlin people have experimented along this line this winter, especially since the extreme cold weather has started. To have a warm room, or more than one warm room, when retiring, or leaving your home leave a low blue blaze burning. This maintains a temperature that will make one feel comfortable when returning. The small blaze costs but little more than to turn on one or more stoves in a cold house and run them full blast long enough to heat the house comfortably. All the while too there is that chilly feeling and soon there starts up a "Sniffle," soon a headache, soon a back ache and a general bad feeling. That means no pleasure for yourself, not able to work, and a disruption of all ones plans and activities, maybe all because somebody tried to save on a gas bill. If a gas bill costs $5.00 more than usual, and the cost of a cold is estimated at $5.00 too, which $5.00 could have been best spent?

No manner of heat or fresh air may prevent a cold, but the value of being comfortable pays the difference in cost of plenty and a skimp. This article is NOT to promote sales for any gas company, but to emphasize a situation and a remedy at small cost to bring about health and comfort in the home. But above everything else, when one has the proper temperature, there should be fresh air, coming in, and properly heated as it comes. To bring it in fresh and warm it and carry out the used air is the problem. Any kind of air is no good and in fact danger-
